ABOUT JPL TELECOM

Based in England, JPL Telecom has designed and manufactured professional headsets and video conferencing solutions for office use, contact centres and unified communications since 2004. We have grown globally and are now one of the UK's largest manufacturers of professional business telecom headsets and video conferencing solutions. In other territories JPL has enjoyed significant growth, but in 2020 this was accelerated due to the need for people to work from home to allow JPL to have a significant part of the market for headsets and webcam solutions.

JPL Telecom offers a wide range of quality professional telecom headsets that span all levels of office use headsets to professional call centre use headsets in wired and wireless DECT styles, providing a real alternative to the current brand leaders. In 2020 we introduced a range of affordable 1080p HD webcams that are ideal for office workers and students alike as a meeting room or work at home solution. This year we have launched a range of all-in-one video sound bars to give a quality meeting room experience.

The company's aim is to continuously improve customer choice, offering a fair price and value on every product to all our resellers and end users alike.
