

JPL Telecom Limited and Eastman KODAK Company Announce Worldwide Brand License Agreement

JPL Telecom Limited and Eastman Kodak Company announced today that they have signed a worldwide license agreement granting JPL Telecom the right to use the KODAK registered trademark for the new KODAK Access Webcam. At JPL Telecom we are excited to be working with Kodak and looking forward to creating new opportunities for both brands and all our customers. We share Kodak's commitment to meet evolving customer needs through innovation, and we look forward to a long and successful relationship with them.

KODAK Access Webcam

The KODAK Access Webcam is the perfect solution for ensuring office security with its Windows Hello-compatible facial recognition sensor. With this feature, you can be confident that your device is secure and accessible only to authorised personnel.

The KODAK Access Webcam also packs in all the features you need. Full HD video quality, omnidirectional microphone and “camera in-use” LED indicators. The KODAK Access Webcam comes with a built-in privacy lens cover, giving you peace of mind that you are hidden from view whilst the lens cover is pulled over the lens.

This compact webcam also features Plug and Play technology, with both USB-A and USB-C connection options, allowing you to plug in and start working immediately with many of the common video conferencing platforms including Microsoft® Teams, Zoom®, Google Meet, Cisco Webex and many more.
